PUBLISHING

Life-changing, paradigm-shifting books
by women, for women

THE WOMANCRAFT STORY

Womancraft Publishing was founded on the revolutionary vision that women and words can change the world.

We act as midwife to transformational women's words that have the power to challenge, inspire, heal and speak to the silenced aspects of ourselves. We share powerful new voices with new visionary ideas, empowering our readers to actively co-create cultures that value and support the female and feminine. This, to us, is deeply exciting and powerful work.

An independent publisher founded in 2014 in Cork, Ireland by Lucy H. Pearce, our authors are based across north America and Europe. Several of our titles are in multiple languages – nine so far. We aim to share a diverse range of voices, of different ages, backgrounds, sexual orientations and neurotypes, seeking ever greater diversity.

Several of our books have been #1 Amazon bestsellers in many categories, as well as Nautilus and Women's Spirituality Award winners.

They have been endorsed by many of our heroines... and heroes: Jean Shinoda Bolen, Oriah Mountain Dreamer, Glennie Kindred, Naomi Lowinsky, Jane Meredith, Steve Biddulph, Dr Michel Odent, Miranda Gray, Lynne Franks, Phyllis Currott... and featured by CNN.com, Cosmopolitan, Psychologies, The Irish Times, The London Review, Sage Woman, Kindred Spirit, Soul & Spirit, Watkins Books, Juno, The Green Parent... They are shared far and wide on social media, including by P!nk, Paolo Coelho, Justine Musk... And most importantly are treasured as "life-changing" by women around the world.

As we find ourselves in a time where old stories, old answers and ways of being are losing their authority and relevance, we at Womancraft are actively looking for new ways forward.

We work on a full circle model of giving and receiving: reaching backwards, supporting Treesisters' reforestation projects and the UNHCR girls' education fund, and forwards via Worldreader, providing e-books at no-cost to education projects for girls and women in developing countries. Many of our books donate a percentage of royalties to causes aligned with their message. We donate many paperback copies each year to menstrual education projects, red tents, women's groups, women's libraries and prisons around the world including: India, South Africa, Haiti, USA, Canada, UK, Ireland and France...

Our engaged and dynamic authors are regularly invited to speak and teach at conferences, festivals, book groups and on podcasts. We are honoured that the Womancraft community is growing internationally year on year, seeding red tents, book groups, women's circles, ceremonies, classes and businesses - transforming lives and communities.

We are contributing to the change we want to see in this world. One book at a time.

INTRODUCING... CARLY MOUNTAIN

Carly Mountain is a sought-after psychotherapist specialising in sex, embodiment, rites of passage and relationships. A seasoned initiatory guide, yoga teacher, breathworker and writer, her work has evolved over twenty years of sacred mythopoetic practice and space holding.

She is author of DESCENT & RISING and UNTAMED PLEASURE (See: New for 2026!).

DESCENT & RISING explores real stories of women's descents into the underworld of the psyche – journeys of dissolution, grief and breakdown precipitated by trauma, fertility issues, loss of loved ones, mental health struggles, FGM, sexual abuse, birthing experiences, illness, war, burnout...

This is territory that Carly Mountain, psychotherapist and women's initiatory guide, knows intimately, and guides us through with exquisite care and insight, using the ancient Sumerian myth of the goddess Inanna as a blueprint. She maps not only the descent but the rising, and familiarizes us with a process of female psychospiritual growth overlooked in patriarchal culture.

INTRODUCING... AMANTHA MURPHY

Amantha is a mother and grandmother, celebrant, storyteller, Seabhean teacher, seer, and healer in the traditional Irish way, initiated by her grandmother. She lives in County Kerry, Ireland and began her spiritual work publicly in 1970 as a clairvoyant before moving into trance mediumship and healing.

Guided by her spirit and ancestral teachers, Amantha works with individuals and groups. She has lead sacred pilgrimages in Ireland since 1995. Her passion is the land – working through the Grandmothers, the Tuatha Dé Danann, and the Ancient Ones.

What if we didn't have to look to other traditions for our spiritual practice?

What if we could connect to the roots of our own ancestors' rituals?

Amantha Murphy was schooled in the ancient and hidden lore of wise women and healers, rooted in the Irish landscape and guarded over the years by her female forebears. In The Way of the Seabhean, she brings to life shamanic practices from the Irish tradition, combining story, ritual, energy teaching and the insights gathered from her own shamanic journeying. Transcribed by Orla O'Connell.

Welcoming Your Daughter's Period
with Care and Confidence

Amy Wilding

978-1-916672-13-0 • 5.5 x 8.5 • 246 pages

RRP €13.99 • £11.99

For generations, mothers have been left without the tools, the words, and the confidence to guide their daughters through puberty and menarche with the honor it deserves.

Period of Change is the book that rewrites the script – not just for our daughters, but for ourselves. This is not just a practical guide to puberty and periods. It is a call to reclaim what is our birthright: an understanding of our bodies and the framework for seeing the power and wisdom of our cyclical nature.

Period of Change* is a guide for mothers who are ready to challenge the shame-based narratives they inherited and create a new legacy for the next generation – one rooted in cycle literacy, self-trust and body sovereignty, one conversation at a time.

Inside, you'll find:

- Clear, empowering language to help you talk to your daughter about menstruation, puberty, and body autonomy – without shame, secrecy, or discomfort.
- Honest conversations about the patriarchal history of menstrual stigma – and how we dismantle it, starting at home.
- A roadmap for celebrating menarche as a rite of passage, including rituals, gifts, and meaningful ways to honor the transition into menstruation.
- Practical support for the most common concerns, from period care options and tracking cycles to navigating anxiety, body hair and other body changes.
- Deep, paradigm-shifting discussions on topics often left out, including female pleasure, birth control, neurodivergence and the menstrual experience, LGBTQ+ specific topics, and how our language shapes body autonomy.

"A must-read for every mother who knows in her bones that there's a better way."
